Fields in big fight to hold onto Lake County Board leadership

by GLORIA DAVIS

Antioch Twp. Supervisor and County Board Chairman Jim Fields is very busy trying to hold on to his County Board chairmanship while also getting ready for April's township election.

For Fields, the County Board top honcho race against Norm Geary is the biggest task, with the results expected to be known next Monday or Tuesday.

Insiders have Geary ahead at press time with 14 of the 24 board members coming out for him.

But Fields cannot be counted out with 10 board members left and hopes of getting some of Geary's supporters to switch sides.

"I think I've done a pretty good job as chairman these past 18 months says Fields, who has been on the County Board for 12 years.

Chamber to elect board See inside

Fields lists the settling of the long-standing Harland Case to his credit.

"There has also been much less controversy during the months since I was elected chairman," adds Fields.

Fields was elected after a marathon balloting session a year-and-one-half ago.

As for the spring township election, unless a big surprise pops up between now and the election, there should be little changes if any in the township government.

Only all the incumbents have announced they are running, not an unusual situation in the township.

Running to retain their seats on the township board are Fields with 12-years as supervisor to his credit; Richard Harland for town clerk and Mark Ring for township highway commissioner.

Incumbent board members running to date unopposed are Richard Kufalk, Rudy Eckerl, Homer LaPlante and Lillian Golonka.

County deer afoot

Holiday time also is time for deer hunting, and increasing movement of animals during "rutting" season may worsen traffic problems as deer cross roads. Here, pair of does are startled by photographer while roaming through lowland area. Although number of deer-vehicle accidents has been increasing each year, the number of such accidents has actually dropped for first six months of 1988. See page 9 for details.---Photo by Larry Backe.

Emmons rates high with state

At its November meeting, the Emmons School Board indicated its pleasure with the results of a state board school visitation conducted this fall. Supt. Jill Ballock stated that the Emmons board was very happy with the number and types of commendations that the district received.

"The visitation team commended the district for the effective educational programs and smooth operation. The district's annual goals and activities were noted as being very productive."

The visitation team specifically commended the Emmons board for its commitment to conduct a building expansion referendum in April, 1989.

"In light of the 38 percent growth in recent years, additional space will be needed to continue quality programs," Ballock said the team reported.

Recent improvements in the district which merited positive comments from the state visitors include: expansion of the junior high curriculum to include pre-algebra, exploratory courses, study skills and literature appreciation; formalized computer curriculum at grades one-eight; increase in library services and social work; and a new health curriculum and textbooks.

The state visitation team concluded the commendations by noting that the Emmons staff is "concerned and caring, and do an excellent job of relating to students and parents," and that the "curriculum offerings are varied and numerous for a school this size."

Ballock stated that while the state noted no areas of non-compliance, there were some areas of concern brought to the district's attention. These are points which the district does not have to correct immediately, but needs to make changes in the future.

Three of the areas of concern emanate from recent legislation requiring more specific policies on board conference expenses, chronic truancy and sex discrimination.

"While none of these areas are pressing issues at Emmons School, I am pleased to report that the board, at its November meeting, revised policies so that those items are now current," Ballock noted.

Other identified areas of concern included consideration of more administrative and office assistance.

Proposed levy hike 9 cents

The Antioch Community High School Board of Education's estimated levy for 1988 would impose a nine-cent per $100 of assessed valuation tax rate hike for district electors, not 90 cents as previously reported. If approved the school's levy would go from $1.90 to $1.99.

Lake County At A Glance

Referendum planned

GRAYSLAKE---The College of Lake County held a special meeting to discuss the school's financial situation post-referendum and Vice President of Administrative Affairs Arthur Kent said the present situation hasn't changed.

"The college has a $962,000 deficit and accumulated deficits of $1,700,000 through 1990," said Kent.

The board decided to request for a referendum again in 1989, according to Kent, who added, the board has not yet decided which election the referendum will be set for.

Fields in running

ANTIOCH --- Present Lake County Board Chairman Jim Fields is hoping to retain his leadership of the County Board as he is in running for top seat against Norm Geary. Results of election should be known by Monday or Tuesday. Fields will also try to retain his 12-year seat as Antioch Twp. Supervisor in the spring election. Also running to retain their township positions will be incumbents Twp. Clerk Richard Harland, Twp. Hwy. Commissioner Mark Ring and board members Richard Kufalk, Rudy Eckert, Lillian Golonka and Homer LaPlante.

Clerk won't run

LAKE VILLA---Judith Dewar, village clerk of the past six years, will not seek re-election in April. She says the $1,000 per year, part-time job is too demanding. She will remain as a village clerical employee, a position for which she was hired eight years ago. A second vacancy on the spring ballot will be the village trustee's position held by Pete Dubin, who resigned in August.

Aid school security

FREMONT---Fremont School has strengthened their building security by implementing practices such as locking doors immediately after junior high students go to their classrooms, and developing an emergency alert code for staff members. Also, all visitors will be required to sign in, and they will be given a visitor's pass, which must be worn while on campus, a report to the Board of Education said. A staff in-service on how to address unauthorized visitors is planned for December.

'Fantasticks' closes

ANTIOCH --- Antioch's PM&L Theatre's production of "The Fantasticks," the longest running off-Broadway musical, will play its last week-end performances on Friday and Saturday, curtain time at 8:30 p.m. Theater is located on Main St. in Antioch, actually just off Antioch's Broadway St. Mickey Mandel from Fox Lake is play's director.

Ponder referendum

GURNEE---Gurnee Dist. 56 voters are expected to be asked in February to approve a building fund increase. The amount and further details will be decided at the Gurnee Dist. 56 Board of Education meeting Dec. 13. The district contends that expected growth of 400 to 500 additional student warrants a fourth school in the district.

Issues TAWs

NORTH CHICAGO ---North Chicago Community High School's finances dominated the November board meeting. Board members voted to approve a tax levy of 10.3 percent over last year and authorized issuing tax anticipation warrants.

Blood drive

GRAYSLAKE ---The Grayslake Fire Dept. is sponsoring a blood drive from 9 a.m. to noon at the Grayslake Fire Station on Dec. 10. The drive is held in cooperation with the Jacob Blomberg Blood Bank.

Fee inquiry

AVON TWP. ---State's Atty. Fred Foreman is preparing an opinion on whether payment of a trustee fee to Supv. Norman Geary, in addition to his pay as supervisor and a fee for serving as township treasurer, is legal. Rodney "Jim" Rockenbach, one of three trustees on the town board, filed a complaint with the state's attorney's office charging that the trustee fee of $1,400 per year is "illegal and improper".

Library may expand

LAKE VILLA---Purchase of additional land adjacent to the present district library between Lake Villa and Lindenhurst is being considered because of growing patronage and increased space needs. Although no immediate building program is planned, the library board feels it is necessary to purchase land now due to rapidly escalating land values on busy Grand Ave. between the two communities.

Post office expands

LINCOLNSHIRE---A new Prairie View-Lincolnshire post office across from the Quill Corp. on Schelter Rd. will mean an increase in areas serviced, as well as more personnel to do the servicing. Despite their larger size, post office employees have a goal of maintaining a hometown flavor, according to Postmaster Fran Dufern.

Hit and run attempt

ROUND LAKE BEACH --- John Prince, 19, now being held by Racine County police, attempted to run down a Round Lake Beach police officer last Saturday during a car chase that ended in Wisconsin with Prince being shot in the arm. The chase started when police first saw Prince speeding. Prince ran off the road. The police car stopped and an officer got out of the car. Prince drove his car back on the road and tried to run the officer down. The officer fired at Prince, grazing him in the right arm, said Round Lake Beach Police Chief Ed Noc. Prince took off. The chase continued through Kenosha and Racine Counties until Prince crashed in Racine County.

No township raises

LAKE VILLA---Salaries of township officials for the next four years will remain the same as they were the past four years. The township board voted to keep the lid on paychecks of township officials due to rapidly rising health insurance costs for township employees. This means the supervisor's salary of $20,000 will not have increased for 16 years and the $14,000 job of assessor will stay the same for 12 years.

Deer-car accidents down, but not all are reported

by JOE WINTER

The number of deer-vehicle accidents reported in Lake County has decreased substantially in the first six months of this year as compared to the first six months of 1987, but this may not be a good indication of how many deer-vehicle accidents actually are occurring.

Prior to May 31, a total of 22 of these accidents were reported in the county. In the same period last year, 31 were reported, and the total figure for 1987 was 90.

However, officials in the state's forest wildlife program say that not all deer-vehicle accidents are reported, and that the actual number could be much higher.

Laws enabling motorists to keep deer they strike were enacted several years ago, but many people still are unaware they have this option, officials said. If a motorist keeps a deer, they are required to report this to the Illinois Dept. of Conservation.

Generally, the last three months of each year produce the most deer-vehicle accidents, as deer are more active and cross roads more frequently. However, figures compiled by the Dept. of Conservation are updated only every six months, so information for the past five months is not yet available.

Officials in the Dept. of Conservation Region 2 office in Spring Grove, which covers nine counties including Lake, said they have registered 400 deer-vehicle accidents so far this year in their area, and that each year the figure goes up. Officials were unsure whether this increase in reported accidents reflects an increase in the total number of such accidents. Again, the reason given is that the number of people keeping the deer is uncertain.

John Kube, specialist in the forest wildlife program, said that deer are most active, and most likely to cross roads, at sunrise and sunset.

Caution should be taken when highway signs showing deer crossings are seen, as these are in areas having a history of deer crossings.

Wauconda, Panthers strive to build on tourney pluses

Improvement will be what both Round Lake and Wauconda will be looking for when they clash at Round Lake Dec. 2. Game time is 7:30 p.m. for the Northwest Suburban Conference opener.

The Bulldogs lost all three games at Round Lake's Thanksgiving tournament, including a narrow 56-51 loss to the Panthers.

"I saw a lot of positives in the tournament. We made some mistakes but we've come back and learned a lot that is what Thanksgiving tournaments are for - to work on things to get ready for the conference season," Wauconda Coach Dave Gardner said.

Wauconda led for three quarters in the season opener against the Panthers. But the hosts put together an 18-10 run in the final quarter which rescued the win.

Jason Day led all scorers with 12 points followed by Taylor Fiene's 11 points and Garrett Horn's 10.

Both teams were crushed by the Fox Valley

Conference entrees in the tourney, McHenry and Dundee-Crown. Dundee-Crown topped Round Lake 66-52 and Wauconda 82-58. McHenry crushed Wauconda 91-57 and doubled Round Lake, 72-35.

For Round Lake, the young Panthers watchword is improvement.

"We saw improvement in some areas. We saw some positives but along with that you have to focus in on areas that need to be worked on and they are self evident. We have to score in the post effectively and we have to shoot free throws," Ward said.

While Round Lake's problem may be free throws and lack of experience, the charity stripe is a Wauconda strength. Wauconda stayed in the contest against Dundee-Crown for 17 minutes in part because the Bulldogs converted on 11 of 14 free throws.

The Bulldogs trailed by nine points, 18-9, in the second quarter.

But Dion Niemo, who led Wauconda with 21 points, sparked a rally. Four free throws from Gary Discher, who had 16 points and Dave Schmitz, who made all seven of his free-throw tries, brought the underdogs to within five at 22-17.

Consecutive hoops by Discher brought the Bulldogs to within a point at 26-25, causing Dundee-Crown to call timeout.

Wauconda trailed 30-29 at halftime as Dion Niemo canned a free throw as he was fouled as the buzzer sounded.

Tax refunds may be earlier

Illinois taxpayers may receive state income tax refunds in a more timely fashion. House members this week overrode the governor's amendatory veto of legislation to establish an income tax refund account, according to state Rep. Virginia Frederick (R-Lake Forest) of the 59th Dist., a sponsor of the legislation.

"Purpose of this legislation is to set aside funds to ensure that money is available to pay income tax refunds," Frederick said. "Traditionally, the General Assembly would appropriate refunds from the general revenue fund. But in recent years the refunds have exceeded the funds appropriated by the General Assembly. The result—taxpayers would often wait months for refund checks."

Under House Bill 2918, a percentage of income tax money received by the state will be deposited into an income tax refund account. Refunds will be paid from the account.

"By keeping money that rightfully belongs to the taxpayers separate from the general revenue fund, it is our hope that both individuals and corporations will receive refunds in a speedy, efficient manner," Frederick said.

Ballet's loss is Wauconda's gain

Shirley Dato: always busy, but loves it

by CORA A.M. NELSON

"A real estate broker in Wauconda, Illinois?" says Shirley Dato of Glenbrook Real Estate. "If someone in my youth had told me that that was where my future lay, I'd have thought they were loony. My childhood and dreams for the future were consumed by ice skating lessons and Russian ballet school."

The life of a professional dancer is one of travel, however, and that was not what the father of this only child had in mind.

"My performing in local dance troupes in Chicago was fine by my father," says Dato, "but traveling to New York—well, that just didn't fit into his way of thinking."

Instead of the night life and city lights of New York, Dato's marriage at age 23 brought her and her husband to rural Illinois.

"When we moved here from the near north side of Chicago, this area seemed like the end of the world," reminisces Dato. "We'd be driving out from the city with several other cars around us, and one by one they'd turn off, until we'd be the only one left driving out this far."

With her husband and his partner in the real estate business, this remote community, already feeling the effect of Chicago's urban sprawl, was to become their home.

"It didn't take us long to grow to love the community and the family lifestyle it promoted," explains Dato. "I'd take my boys and we'd join the others who gathered each day at the soda fountain in the local drugstore. I once suggested we move, but by that time, no one wanted to."

"My first priority has always been my family," she continued. "I've had my real estate license for 25 years, but I wanted to be at home with my sons while they were growing up. I went to work only after my eldest son went to college, and that was for a part-time position."

The 80s have brought a number of changes to the Wauconda area, however. The soda fountain has been replaced by soda machines, and Dato's quiet family lifestyle has become one of business and local government. The death of her husband in 1984 left the real estate company in her hands.

"It was really a matter of survival," says Dato. "Someone in the office had to have a broker's license, so getting that was my first priority. Next, I tried to surround myself with people who would uphold the reputation of the firm. I felt then, and I still feel that we can do anything if we develop the right attitude. I wanted salespeople at Glenbrook who would do their best and be honest. And, in all the years we've been here, I think any one of these people could call up any of their customers and they'd be pleased to hear from them."

With her sons well into their careers and the real estate office running smoothly, Dato decided the time was right for another challenge and accepted an appointment as a village trustee of Wauconda.

"I replaced a trustee who was leaving the area, and the papers at the time reported that I 'sold his house and took his seat,' but it wasn't quite like that," explains Dato, smiling. "I was flattered when I was approached, but it took me a while to decide to accept the position."

Weekly council meetings and associated responsibilities make for a long day for this businesswoman, but she's taking it in stride.

"I want to do a good job for the community. I've had the unique experience of being on both sides of the table when it comes to discussions about development, and I feel I can contribute now, when our area is undergoing so many changes. The long days come with the territory."

A typical day for Dato often starts

Busy woman

Wauconda's Shirley Dato wears many hats in her idea of a typical day. Her real estate career, political endeavors and family life leave little time for her to take a rare vacation.

before the others arrive at the office and continues into late evening. From putting in her share of "floor time" at the office, listening to the concerns of her salespeople, to attending evening town council meetings—which can continue well into the night—little time for getting away from it all is left.

"I've had one short vacation in the last five years, remarks Dato. I'd like to have more time, but I feel I'm needed here."

And right she is. Her mother, still living independently in Wauconda, counts on Dato's daily visits, being in need of her daughter's closeness—just like her family, business and community.

Experience the joy of giving and keeping

by ALAN NADOLNA

As the holiday season approaches, we all start to think of the joys of giving. Even the unselfish act of being charitable is often stimulated by tax incentive or advantage.

Tax shelters are all but dead. The IRS has restricted the best tax shelter, the retirement plan. The formerly popular deep shelter partnerships have been legislated out of existence.

There are some means of tax relief still around, namely tax credit programs, but these are much less aggressive than the deep shelters.

This way to wealth

The area of charitable giving still provides some excellent opportunities to realize tax advantage and financial gain.

The reduction in marginal tax rates, the introduction of the Alternative Minimum Tax (and preferences), and changes in capital gains treatment have lessened interest in charitable giving. However, prospective donors may be overlooking an excellent financial opportunity.

Take a middle aged client in the maximum tax bracket who owns real estate (or other assets) that has appreciated enormously since it was purchased twenty years ago. If not for the 28 percent capital gains tax, the client would have sold the real estate long ago and replaced it with an asset that could eventually produce retirement income.

Planners can no longer suggest deep tax shelters for this client with the intent of deferring taxes far into the future. Today an alert planner could suggest that the client investigate the Charitable Remainder Trust technique.

The CRT will provide the client with an income for life, or for two lives if a spouse is included, and the property can be sold with no capital gains. The client also receives an income tax deduction for the gift to the charity, plus the client's estate is reduced. This may prove the most important benefit of all, the estate tax rate is the highest tax rate of all at up to 55 percent.

The income flow that the client receives can be tax free. It can start immediately or be deferred until retirement age. Many owners of closely held businesses have used this technique to turn non-marketable company stock into a source of lifetime income, with no tax on the stock.

In very sophisticated situations, the closely held stock can be re-obtained by the family after the charitable gift. This keeps the business in the family and still generates the tax and income benefits cited.

The establishment of a charitable trust program is a complicated procedure. Competent legal, accounting and financial counsel is critical. Income planning must include inflation protection, and principal protection. Estate planning must be an integral part of the process. The amount ultimately available to beneficiaries can be increased by a combination of charitable planning and the creation of estate tax free assets.

If planning is properly done, the results of this process will be estate and income tax savings, lifetime income, and preservation of estate size.

Legalizing gambling

Little by little, society's barriers against gambling are being worn down.

In the first week of the fall veto session, Illinois lawmakers approved a bill to allow charitable groups to continue holding "casino night" fundraisers. Approval of Senate Bill 1889 will allow not-for-profit groups to continue to hold casino nights, which are a major source of income for many charitable groups. The new measure contains no expiration date. The new law raises the maximum bet from $5 to $10.

Originally legalized in 1986, the games brought in more than $7.5 million in gross revenues during the two-year test period. Few citizens would argue that the legislators acted improperly.

By executive order, prohibitions against advertising state sponsored lotteries in the U.S. mails have been lifted. This is looked upon by officialdom as a major step in spreading the popularity of state lotteries. President Reagan signed the Charity Games Clarification Act of 1988 on Nov. 7, which covers non-profit bingo and other community games.

Illinois now has legal off-track betting and Wisconsin is getting ready to open its first dog racing tracks with para-mutual betting. Society is getting so liberal about gambling that suggestions to approve casino gambling in Chicago along the lines of the New Jersey gaming law don't sound far-fetched. It could happen.

Advice from youth

President-elect George Bush has his work cut out for him if the views of a group of sixth graders are any indication. Reducing the deficit and helping the poor and homeless topped the list of recommendations for the new chief executive, but the young people exhibited a wide range of concerns, pretty much reflecting society as a whole.

Mrs. Doris Aimers asked her Wauconda Junior High class to write letters of advice to the incoming president. Most of the sixth graders took their job seriously. We got the biggest kick out of the writer who described to Vice President Bush how he "beat the pants off Dukakis" 149 to 51 in the class election. A Dukakis backer entreated Bush to "clean the harbor". The kids pulled no punches. Another Dukakis fan chastised the vice president for fostering trade with Japan.

A number of sixth graders know their economics. They recommended to Bush that deficit reduction must come first to provide "enough money to tackle other problems". Right on, kids! Gun bans "stink," one youngster stated bluntly. Another cautioned, "Don't ban toy guns". The children want a hard line on drugs, gang violence and driving under the influence. Promoting world peace topped several lists as did cleaning up pollution. "Take my advice," a history buff wrote. "Improve Soviet relations". A fledgling Republican admonished Bush to "keep what Reagan had going".

Good advice, all right, and an exciting educational project. Do kids know what's going on? You bet they do! The sixth graders seem serious and sensible about the future. A thought for the future, kids. Now that you've broken the ice, don't stop writing your elected officials. They'll pay attention to your letters even if they don't take all your advice. Writing letters is a fine American tradition. It's a good habit to get into while you're young.

AIDS training for teens

High school officials in our community soon may be called upon to consider scheduling an educational program for the student body on AIDS being presented by the Illinois Dept. of Public Health. We wonder if they will be receptive?

In a new broad-based effort to educate youth about the epidemic of AIDS, the department is endeavoring to get teens to understand the facts and learn how to protect themselves from infection. The third in a series of programs presented by Dept. Dir. Bernard J. Turnock, M.D., was presented in Rock Island prior to Thanksgiving. Citing a recent Parents' Too Soon survey, Dr. Turnock said more than 40 percent of teenagers between 16 and 17 reported having sexual relations.

The on-campus programs sound like an excellent way to emphasize to teens that they are at risk with a potentially fatal disease. The state presentation emphasizes the break down of feelings of immortality held by adolescents. AIDS information is vital. As of Oct. 31, there were 2,247 persons who have been diagnosed with AIDS in Illinois, 55 percent of whom have died.

You can be 'big' either with time or your money

by BILL SCHROEDER

You can be big about the holidays by joining Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County, an organization that provides one-to-one friendship for kids from single-parent homes in need of a special friend.

Portia Wallace said that the Christmas season is an excellent time to offer financial support besides the on-going job of recruiting, screening and matching.

Wallace boiled down the financial picture to make a telling argument for Big Brothers/Big Sisters. It costs $32,000 per child for correction care in the juvenile system, $25,550 per child for institutional treatment as compared to $1,354 for a Big Brother/Big Sister match.

So there's room for everyone to help in preventing juvenile delinquency or helping with emotional problems for children growing up with only one parent. Call 360-0770 with your questions.

Thanks for clean air

Editor:

Kudos to Mayor William Dam and the Fox Lake Village trustees- Margaret Paull, Robert Peters, Walter Kubalanza, Darwin Follman, Richard Bayne and Alberta Meyer. The fact that some of the trustees are smokers and yet unanimously passed the Clean Indoor Air Resolution No. 88 R 28 shows courage for an exemplary cause. The Village of Fox Lake should be extremely proud of endeavors taken on Nov. 21, 1988.

Tobacco smoke is a devastating addictive drug that directly kills 350,000 people yearly and in Illinois alone 250 deaths yearly from sidestream or secondary toxic smoke.

They have taken this initial step in attacking in a broader sense the drug problem that pervades the entire country. Of course we realize that it's an addictive, killing habit and for some people very difficult to break away. So what is the alternative? Debilitating health and a painful death?

Likes fun of local shopping

Editor:

The holiday season is once again upon us, and with it comes something I dread more and more every year fighting the crowds at the shopping malls. I rarely find what I'm looking for. The sales people (if you can even find one to help you) are generally inexperienced, and often times down right rude.

This year I'm trying something new. I'm spending my money in the stores that want my business, where their attitudes and actions show. This year I'm doing my Christmas shopping in Grayslake, where the merchants have a commitment to me and my community. I made a list of the stores in town and what they carry. With the exception of clothing, I found I could complete my Christmas shopping in my own community. I can avoid the traffic, maddening crowds, and frustration at the malls. Best of all I can experience some old-fashioned one-on-one service in the local shops.

We, as residents should shop locally whenever possible. Let's send a message to our merchants this holiday season. Shop in their stores and let them know we appreciate their commitment to our community. I'm looking forward to shopping this Christmas. Who knows I might even have a little fun!

State forgets county

Editor:

Having reviewed the 1988 Land and Water Report published by the Illinois Department of Conservation, it appears that Lake County has been totally forgotten by the State of Illinois. In the last 43 years, the DOC has acquired only 81 acres of land in Lake County or less than two acres per year.

For all those Lake County legislators who opposed the Township Open Space Act, based on the argument that the County and State were providing all the open space needed, such a state land acquisition record would hardly justify their opposition. I believe this is unforgivable, especially in Lake County, which is rich in ecologically important lands of all kinds. Recently, we have been told that the irreplaceable Red Wing Fen in Antioch Township (approx. 1,000 acres) has been dropped from the DOC's acquisition list.

CLC men break loss string, women show progress

College of Lake County's men's basketball team broke into the win column for the first time this young season at the Harper tournament.

The Lancers are hoping to build on that win when they host Rock Valley in a non-conference game at CLC on Dec. 3. Game time is 3 p.m., following the clash between CLC and Rock Valley women's teams.

CLC beat the host Hawks 68-62 but then lost to Wright 77-70.

The win over the Hawks broke a four-game losing string for the Lancers. Harper led at halftime 32-30, but CLC dominated the second half, gaining leads of as many as 11 points.

Don Kiesgan was the leading CLC scorer with 25 points and Mike Fisel had 14. Then on Saturday against Wright, the Lancers fell behind 42-30 at halftime and tried to rally but it came up short.

"They pressured us a lot and it hurt in the first half. We did a much better job against it in the second half," CLC Coach Bruce Smith said.

Kiesgan led CLC scorers with 22, Butch Lenoir had 15 and Fisel 10 for the Lancers.

The CLC women's team also played at Harper and Coach Don Zeman's team lost twice, by very different margins.

The Lancers fell to Kishwaukee 77-31 but gave Wright a battle before losing 35-30. Before the tournament, CLC lost a close 57-49 decision to Joliet.

"We're still handicapped by the numbers. With only eight players, we can't practice speciality things like working against a press that Joliet threw at us," Zeman said.

The Lancers suffered a major blow when Teri Huntington was injured in a minor car accident. Huntington was forced to miss the Harper games after she scored 18 points against Joliet.

Jennifer Robison had 15 against the Wolves.

Kishwaukee led 34-13 at halftime and the lead kept building in the second half. Tina McBride paced CLC's efforts with 15 points.

Against the Wright Rams, the Lancers trailed 18-16 at halftime but hit a dryspell in the second half.

CLC suffered from cold shooting throughout the game, finishing 12-for-56, 21 percent.

Robison was the leading scorer with 12 points for CLC.

CLC's top golfers

HYPERTENSION AND THE FEET

Hypertension (high blood pressure) often is associated with foot problems, especially when it causes decreased circulation to the feet.

Swollen feet, ulcerations, foot temperatures that are lower than normal, and an absence of normal skin color are among signs that might lead a medical professional to a diagnosis of hypertension and circulation problems.

Hypertension that is not controlled can lead to heart disease and strokes. That is why the podiatrist will refer patients with elevated blood pressure to their physicians for further evaluation, diagnosis and treatment of the overall condition.

Geary, Fields battle for No. 1 county job

by JOSEPH SOULAK

Something dramatic could happen between now and Monday morning to derail Avon Twp. Sup. Norman Geary's bid to become chairman of the Lake County Board. That is when the board will convene to elect a new chairman.

The man who says he has the votes to end up with the $38,000 job is Norman Geary of Grayslake, who also doubles as Avon Twp. supervisor.

"No so," said Jim Fields, Antioch Twp. supervisor and County Board member from Dist. 4, who has been chairman the past 18 months. "I'm still in this race. I've never gotten out no matter what anyone says or how many signatures they have."

At the same meeting, Geary's companion running mate, Dist. 6 board member C. "Richard" Anderson of North Barrington says he has the votes to become the new chairman of the Forest Preserve Dist.

Geary and Anderson surprised everyone two weeks ago by obtaining signatures of commitment from 12 other members of the board pledging support for their chairmanship.

Fields doesn't have the necessary 13 vote edge or any signatures at this point. But that could change, as it has in past years. That has happened in past years when other letters of commitment were ignored after board members got down to doing what they know best, politics. That is how Fields came to office when board member James LaBelle of Zion took a State of Illinois job six months into his chairmanship. Following a 24 hour deadlock in which Dist. 5 board representative Andrea Moore of Libertyville was said to have the necessary 13 votes, Fields came to office as a compromise.

Somewhat the same thing happened to Geary 10 years ago this month. County Board chairman from 1976 to 1978, he woke up one November day just before the board's reorganization meeting to find Sup. Harry Robin of Grant Twp. had the votes to become chairman.

"As far as I know my 14-vote edge still prevails," Geary said. "No one else seems to be a candidate for the chairmanship at this point."

Sup. F.T. "Mike" Graham of Libertyville said the "handwriting is on the wall. This is a signature-oriented society. When people sign their name to something at the top that commits them it is a little difficult to back down." Graham said pressure was being placed on some signers to change their mind, but he did not know of any likely candidates.

"It's not over until the fat lady sings," might be an operative parody applied to this election.

"I'm doing all I can to be re-elected," Fields said. "There could be a battle," he said without saying exactly when or where. "Remember, fishing is never ends until the fish are in the boat, not just the net."

The Monday, Dec. 5, meeting begins at 9 a.m. in the County Board room on the 10th floor of the County Building. First order of business will be to swear in newly-elected board members. This will be followed by election of the chairman and vice chairman.

Anderson, who is slated as chairman of the Forest Preserve Dist. by the Geary faction, has been on the board almost one dozen years. If elected he will succeed Dist. 1 County Board member Donald Strenger of Lake Forest, who has served as chairman for six years.

Signed to support Geary and Anderson and for the respective chairmanships are Graham, Carol Calabrese and James Dolan, all of Libertyville; John Balen of Waukegan; Audrey Nixon of North Chicago; Sam Payne Sr. of Zion; Debra Halas of Waukegan; Suzi Schmidt of Lake Villa; Geary; Roberta O'Reilly of Barrington; Anderson; Bruce Hansen of Lake Zurich; John Reindl of Mundelein; and Helen Belmont Amendola of Highland Park.

Board members paid full-time for part-time work

Serving as a member of the Lake County Board is really a part-time position.

But some people might think the 24 people holding these jobs are paid as if they held the job full time.

Now paid $18,000 annually, members of the board voted 13-7 last month to boost their salaries by $5,000 over the next four years to $23,000. That is an increase of $1,000 annually for 1990 and $2,000 each in 1991 and 1992.

"Salaries for the past several years were set by the board at least two, almost three years ago," said board member Norman Geary of Avon Twp. "Our action raised the pay of supervisors going into office next spring and two years hence," he said of the practice of electing one-half of the board every other year.

Although the $5,000 pay raise works out to a 27 percent total increase, it actually amounts to 6.35 annually over the next four years. This is about the same as county employees, who each year are guaranteed a 3-1/2 percent cost of living increase and merit increase of anywhere from 2-1/2 to 7-1/2 percent. In no case do they receive less than a six percent increase.

In addition, each County Board member is a member of the Forest Preserve Dist. For this they are paid $20 per meeting up to a maximum of $1,500 per year.

While boosting their own paycheck, members increased that of the board chairman to $11,250 and another $8,750 for serving as liquor commissioner. The combined jobs formerly paid $10,000 and $7,500, respectively.

Voting for the increase were Dist. 1 representatives Deloris Axelrod of Highland Park and Donald Stenger of Lake Forest; Dist. 2 representatives Anthony Serdar and Matthew Miholic of Lake Bluff and Audrey Nixon of North Chicago; Dist. 3 representative James LaBelle of Zion; Dist. 4 representatives Norman Geary of Grayslake and board Chairman James Fields of Antioch; Dist. 5 representatives James Dolan, Mike Graham, Carol Calabrese and Andrea Moore, all of Libertyville; and Dist. 6 representative Gerald Beyer of Wauconda.

Opposed were Dist. 1 representative Richard Price of Lake Forest; Dist. 2 representative John Balen of North Chicago; Dist. 4 representatives Charlotte Kiesgan of Fox Lake and Fred Popp of Lake Villa; Dist. 6 representative Richard Anderson of North Barrington, Bruce Hansen of Lake Zurich and John Reindl of rural Mundelein.

"It was necessary to raise salaries in order to keep good people in office and attract new ones," Geary said. "No one can live on this income alone." With the exception of a few board members who also double as township supervisor, most others have a second source of income.

Those serving in both as supervisor and County Board member are Robert Neal of Wadsworth, Fields of Antioch, Geary of Grayslake and Beyer of Wauconda, who was not re-elected. They are paid separate salaries for both posts.

Among those with second jobs or added sources of income are Axelrod, real estate sales; Price, insurance agent; Stenger, plumbing contractor; Balen, retired steelworker; Neal, owner of Able Electronics; Payne, retired; Eleanor Rostrom of Waukegan, teacher; Kiesgan, bar and dining room manager; LaBelle, a state employee; newly-elected Debbie Hallas of Dist. 2, secretary for state Rep. John Matjevich; and Suzi Schmidt, the new Dist. 4 member, a Waukegan YMCA employee.

"If those people who don't think they are worth the additional salary they shouldn't take it," Graham said of those who voted no. None have done so.

Some County Board members said a strong message would be sent the public if no increases were approved. Others said the pay will attract good candidates in years to come. And some use the same old line: "It's political."

Still the fluffiest cheese omeletes around, found at Pete's Place in Silver Lake, Wis.

There's no dessert like ice cold rice pudding in any Greek restaurant in Lake or Cook County unless it's the homemade bread pudding at Glenn's Restaurant in Trevor, Wis.

Silver Screen

New movies out that have gotten rave reviews include the sequel to Ron Howard's block buster last year, "Cocoon," this one has many of the same stars lead by Steve Guttenberg, "Cocoon — The Return."

George Lucas and Steven Spielberg have combined their genius for what bodes to be the kids' (and those young in heart) favorite holiday movie, "The Land Before Time," starring everybody's friendly dinosaurs.

Walt Disney Studios are going to give Lucas and Spielberg a run for the ticket money with the cartoon version of "Oliver Twist," called "Oliver and Company." Little Ollic's a dog in this one.

Marriott's holiday show

The Marriott Lincolnshire Theatre has opened its holiday production of James Barrie's "Peter Pan," starring Kathy Santen in title role with Darling children played by, left, David Muhlethaler, Jessica Boevers, Jay Schmarak and Andrew Lupp as Nana and Santen as Peter Pan.

Kathy Santen superb Peter Pan

by GLORIA DAVIS

Fantasies abound at holiday time and the powers that be at the Marriott Lincolnshire Theatre have brought one of the most popular fantasies of all to their stage for the season, "Peter Pan."

The Broadway play, based on the James M. Barrie fairytale with Julie Styne, Betty Comden and Adolph Green giving their special touches to the music, is a sure-fire piece of stage material and producer, Kary Walker and director and choreographer, Richard Caspar do this production more than justice.

This show has five stars, the special effects designer and crew, Kathy Santen (as Peter Pan), Skipp Sudduth, who hams his way gloriously through the dual roles of the Father and Captain Hook, the slimiest of the slimy, Nana (the dog) and the Crocodile.

The set designer Thomas Ryan, USA and his crew deserve kudos all over the place for carrying off the difficult job of making four sets and changing them quickly in Marriott's stage confines. The program lists "Flying by Fox," this too is done superbly.

Of course the wires are evident (what else with Marriott's close audience) and tended to make a little noise at the beginning of the show, but blocking this out, the Darling children and Peter fly through the air with comparative ease.

We have been a fan of Santen's ever since she stole the show in "Joseph and his Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat," and Carrie in "Carousel," but she outdoes even those great performances as Peter.

She's all boy, all dreamer and could go up against the legendary Mary Martin (Broadway and TV's Peter) in the vocal department anytime.

Sudduth's Father is well-done, but his Hook is a real scene stealer.

Assistant choreographer Andrew Lupp has the audience thinking of calling employment agencies for a canine nanny and comes up with the best crocodile since 1901.

Jessica Boevers' "Distant Melody" is touching, the Pirates and Indians entertaining.

It's hard to beat a stage full of kids but in a few cases, the children in this production could have been a little stranger to keep pace with the quality of the rest of the cast. This would eliminate a few of the show's weaker parts that are being carried entirely by the younger cast members.

Questions most asked about a cruise

by JIM WARREN, PRESIDENT NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Not all that long ago cruising was a luxury affordable only by people with names like Rockefeller. Today, however, almost anyone can indulge in the ultimate vacation!

Following are questions most often asked about cruising. Will I get seasick? Possible, but unlikely. Cruise ships are equipped with stabilizers which eliminate roll. Still concerned? Your doctor can prescribe a drug contained in a patch worn behind the ear. A new item on the market is a band worn on the wrist which presses on accupressure points.

Do I have to pay for entertainment? Cruise ships offer a variety of shows ranging from top talent to the Las Vegas style. Admission to all shows is free.

How good is the food on a cruise? This is an area where cruise lines try to outdo each other! Most of the food is of the gourmet variety and all you can eat. Not only are there up to ten meals a day, but room service is available and free!

Oh, exercise classes are also offered. Will I get bored on a cruise? Do you like gambling, golf, trap shooting, swimming, ping-pong, duty-free shopping, games, movies or parties? And that's before you even reach a port! If you want to be bored, you certainly can do that, too. What kind of clothing should I bring?

Casual attire is the order of the day. A suit coat for men and one fancy dress for the ladies is suggested for the captain's cocktail party. On other nights, casual dress is fine even for dinner. One suggestion. Bring a pair of rubber-soled sneakers for use on deck.

I'll leave you with some nautical language. Ships don't have doors, they have hatches. The walls are bulkheads. If you walk to the back of the ship, you are going aft, towards the front is forward. When you leave the ship you disembark.

Invite public to Cook Home for Victorian Christmas

For the 16th consecutive year, on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 3 and 4, and again on Dec. 10 and 11, the Ansel B. Cook home, 413 North Milwaukee Ave. in Libertyville, will be open to the public for the annual Victorian Christmas.

Hours for touring the home will be one to five in the afternoon on all four days.

From the moment visitors enter through the huge front door of the house, built in 1878, they will be transported back to a time when hand-made Christmas decorations depicted the care and skill required to create them.

Completely refurnished as it was in the late 1800's, the house at this of the year is especially colorful. The ornate railing on the stairway leading to the second floor is adorned with holly and garland. Holiday nicknacks from bygone years decorate the mantels on several fireplaces.

Entering the front parlor, visitors will see a Christmas tree of yesteryear, covered with candles, antique, hand-made ornaments and draped with popcorn garland.

In the second parlor, an old fashioned pump organ will "come back to life again" when it is played by members of the Libertyville High School music department. Christmas carols also will be sung by this group.

The dining room, with a table set for four people, will feature some of the added touches the Cook family probably felt were appropriate for the holiday. Glassware, silverware, fin China and napkins, with old time silver rings holding them neatly in place, seem to patiently wait for the Christmas feast to begin.

On the second floor, visitors will see the bedrooms, plus period clothing, toys and hundreds of other items commonly in use during the Victorian days.

The Cook home is maintained year-round and decorated for the Victorian Christmas by the Libertyville-Mundelein Historical Society. Members of this society will be present on the four day celebration to act as tour guides.

There is no charge for touring the house. However, visitors are asked to donate one dollar each to help defray the cost of preserving this priceless part of Libertyville's heritage.

Ill. without Big Jim

by JOHN S. MATIJEVICH
STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Illinois without Governor James Thompson? When one person dominates for so many years the leadership of a state, it's hard to think of what changes will come when that person moves on. People are starting to think hard about it.

Rumors were strong the first week of the veto session that Thompson may be headed for a "U.S. Trade Representative" position in President-elect George Bush's administration. Thompson's frequent travels overseas to boost trade for Illinois fit him for such a position.

I believe many Democrats were finally looking forward to a race against Thompson. It may be his long tenure of leadership, it may be his insistence on tax increases, it may be his many out-of-state trips. For those, and probably other reasons that come when you are governor so long, Thompson's popularity is at an all-time low. He reads the polls and I'm sure he knows it. I noticed in the recent election that candidates running for the legislature didn't use him in their commercials, as they had in the past.

To be a sitting incumbent governor will be an advantage for Lt. Gov. George Ryan. Will he inherit Thompson's "pro-tax image" because he, as lieutenant-governor was forced to promote the taxes. Or, would he change that image by a more conservative state spending program in his administration? Ryan is no political novice.

Up to now, most Republicans were looking to Sec. of State Jim Edgar as their "next star" if Thompson stepped aside in the next election. All of that would change if George Ryan Assumed the governorship. What would Edgar's future be? Stay where he's at, a run for the U.S. Senate, or what?

This column isn't intended as disrespectful of Gov. James Thompson. I'm not trying to "shove him out of the door," or "get rid of him before his time." But, given the possibility that he may have other options that would affect all of us in Illinois, I thought that we should talk about it.

diligence in pursuing the cleanup of Waukegan Harbor.

However, we have some concerns about the public comment period. At the information meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 18, the EPA handed out an eight-page summary of their 600 page document describing their plan for cleaning up Waukegan Harbor. There is one copy of the document in the Waukegan Library which has to be read at the library. This was the first time that the public saw this information. The EPA explained the plan at this meeting and then asked for public comment that night. There can be written comment within 30 days.

We feel that a 30 day comment period from the initial informational meeting is insufficient review time and we have asked the EPA for an extension.

Selling out our town

Editor:

Waucondians must begin to take more responsibility toward their families and their communities or it will be too late. Your lovely village will be sold down the river; yours will become another Schaumburg - a dead, dirty, noisy, mind-warping extension of Chicago. Is that really what you all moved out here for?? Talking to you individually I've heard you say you reverence nature; you seek quality in your life; you deplore urbanization. But I see few of you at the town council meetings - watchdogging the board, letting them know what their constituents want.

And the village board is sure no one cares. They blithely go about making their own rules, ignoring legally prescribed procedures, disregarding the voices of those present, bending to every whim and fancy of those with financial interests - who make their livelihood by destroying every vestige of nature they can lay their hands on. And your board is so eager for these out-of-towners to take over they sell you out absolutely; and don't even have the guts to say, "Hold on - if we give you this, you give us that. You make your bucks - you give back for schools, for parks, for a set-aside to save precious trees and irreplaceable natural habitat."

I know you're out there. Whether you come en masse or appoint a representative(s), get involved. The board meetings are the first and third Tuesdays of each month at 8 p.m. in the Village Hall at 101 N. Main St., in a room offering plenty of seating. The next regular meeting will be Dec. 6. Be there. Take hold of your own destiny.

Defends seniors

Editor:

In a Nov. 11 letter, a reader wrote condemning the seniors for voting down school tax increases. She challenged seniors' hardship of having to live on a "fixed income". The writer stated her age as 31, which was quite evident from the comment "In a sense, we all are living on a fixed income."

It may come as a surprise to the writer that some seniors have been living on this "fixed" income for many years—in some instances, 10 or more years. I am sure the wage earner is not living on a salary "fixed" 10 years ago or more.

We all work and save for the day when we can retire, and hope to live out our time in the homes we made many sacrifices to maintain over the years. Seniors' long-term goal is to live independent of government help.

To continue raising property taxes—taxing low-income families as well as the seniors out of their homes is not the answer. Would this same "tax activist" be willing to be taxed for housing families who lose homes and become dependent on the state because of high taxation? I am sure not!

There must be relief for homeowners from these astronomical property taxes. At the present time, 75 percent or more of our property tax goes to the schools. The "property tax activists" should concentrate their efforts on making Springfield aware of this crisis.

Our communities are composed of a variety of levels of income, including young families with children who are trying to hold onto a home and cannot afford the constant escalation of property taxes.

Instead of blaming seniors for the failure of tax referendums, look for some reform in the schools along with alternative ways to raise money.

In answer to another comment by the writer, who complains about paying Social Security taxes at the age of 31—we all pay Social Security taxes. She fears there will be "none" for her when she can benefit from them.

Well, she had better pray that the 31-year-olds have more concern for the seniors than she has now when she becomes eligible for Social Security.

Politically speaking....

Some people swear by Robert Neal, Dist. 3 County Board member, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee and wearer of a few other hats. "Neal never saw a job he didn't like," someone once commented about this hard-to-reach Newport Twp. supervisor.

And a few people swear at him. Among them are other township supervisors. Each year at this time they routinely check salaries of township officials from supervisor to highway commissioner, assessor, clerk and trustee. Comparisons are the way townships set salaries for the next four years.

Routinely, Neal ignores these requests. "I don't know if he is trying to hide something, doesn't have a staff to provide the information or is just plain rude," one supervisor said.

One person close to Vice President Dan Quayle is Virginia Harrington, Avon Twp. clerk. She dated the vice president's father, Jim, when both attended Oak Park High School in 1938 and 1939.

"He was cuter than Dan," Harrington said of the man she dated, who worked in the family business making the popular Lincoln Logs. This successful enterprise was later acquired by Playskool, the prominent maker of children's toys.

Harrington and Quayle danced their junior and senior years away to the Big Apple. When they graduated Quayle went to DePaul University where he met his wife, Corrine. The daughter of a prominent Indiana newspaper family, Quayle went home with her to become publisher of the Huntington News. Their son, Dan, went on to become a U. S. senator and, now, vice president.

Harrington has her memories. What would have happened if she had married Jim Quayle? "Probably nothing," she said, "my parents didn't own a newspaper."

Township elections are hot topics right about now. One of the big ones shaping up is in Lake Villa Twp. Dorothy Thompson is calling it quits after four years as supervisor, eight as township clerk and 12 years before that as the first township clerical employee.

One of the slates running in next April's election is the Choice Party. Heading it is Sue Hanson, the current township clerk. Campaign director is Suzi Schmidt, the newly-elected Dist. 4 County Board member and township trustee of the past four years. She knocked off the popular Fred Popp in last spring's primary.

Will some of Schmidt's charisma and luck rub off on Choice?

Speed limit signs are deceiving. In unincorporated areas, even small subdivisions, it is 30 miles per hour unless changed by law.

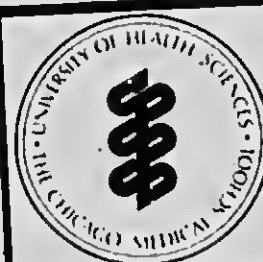

Many speed limit signs say 20 or 25 miles per hour. But this really isn't so. The signs came from the streets of Chicago. Summer residents removed them years ago to certain subdivisions to hold down traffic on mostly gravel roads.

No one today knows any different, so the signs have stayed. But they aren't always obeyed.

Avon Twp. Sup. and Dist. 4 County Board member is facing one of his strongest election challenges in years. It will come from the Avon 1st ticket led by Grayslake Village Trustees Russell Christian. This ballot for next April includes a disgruntled trustee, Rodney "Jim" Rockenbach, an even more disenchanted highway commissioner named Patrick Anderson and Arden Babcox, wife of the late sheriff, as candidate for trustee.

Not only is the slate formidable, it has some financial fodder to fling. Watch for double dipping accusations to fly. Geary says he has a legal opinion to back up salaries he draws as both township supervisor, treasurer and trustee plus, of course, County Board member.

What happens if Geary is elected the new chairman of the County Board next week and loses April's township election? Nothing! He will still be a Dist. 4 County Board member. The election for that job is two years away.

SCOUTING REPORT

Carmel at St. Patricks

Date: Dec. 2.
Game time: 7:30 p.m.
Location: St. Patricks High School, 5900 W. Belmont, Chicago.
Team records: both teams are 2-1.
Keys to game: Carmel will have to avoid the temptation of resting on its laurels after winning the Waukegan West round-robin tournament. But if guards Eric Bruksch and Ken Moreano can continue getting the ball to post players Derek Shaw and Randy Bierman, the Corsairs figure to have a good shot at starting the tough East Suburban Catholic Conference season off on the right foot. The Corsairs will have to work on free-throw shooting, in which they were 4-for-13 against Waukegan West. Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg knows the "pit" atmosphere of the Shamrocks home court, so a few extra tosses from the charity stripe may be called for this week.
Prediction: Carmel by three.

Wauconda at Round Lake

Date: Dec. 2.
Game time: 7:30 p.m.
Location: Round Lake High School gym.
Team records: Wauconda 0-3, Round Lake 1-2.
Keys to game: the Panthers watched closely as the Bulldogs gave Dundee-Crown all they could handle in the opening 17 minutes of the contest at Round Lake. The Bulldogs even led for three quarters against Round Lake before losing 56-51. Round Lake may have the size advantage, but Wauconda has the free-throw shooting edge. Round Lake must stop Dion Niemo and try to come up with consistent shooters.
Prediction: in an upset, Wauconda ends the losing streak at 47 straight by winning by two.

Grayslake at Johnsburg

Date: Dec. 2.
Game time: 7:30 p.m.
Location: Johnsburg High.
Team records: Grayslake 3-0, Johnsburg 2-1.
Keys to game: the Rams and the Skyhawks probably will know each other better than they want to after this one, their second meeting in two games. The Skyhawks proved they are for real in challenging Grayslake before falling 52-49 in final moments. Timm West is out with a sprained ankle but Grayslake believes it is not a one-dimensional team. Johnsburg counters with a one-two punch of Tom Oeffling and Trevor Hart.
Prediction: Rams survive in Northwest Suburban Conference opener, win by five.

Stevenson at Antioch

Date: Dec. 2.
Game time: 8 p.m.
Location: Antioch Community High School gym
Team records: Antioch 1-3, Stevenson 2-1
Keys to the game: Both teams gained valuable experience by participating in tough Thanksgiving tournaments. The Sequoits lost two overtime games against Rockford Auburn and Rockford East, and Coach Jeff Dresser must try to keep his players thinking positive and confident that they can win the close games. The Patriots, on the other hand, placed second in the Mundelein tournament after losing to the eventual champion Highland Park. Their key is to maintain its balanced scoring attack from Seniors Cleveland Tyson and J.T. Kellock, and juniors Todd Wales and Mark LeGrand.
Prediction: This will be a very close North Suburban contest.

Sequoit concentration

Antioch basketball player Scott Gooch leaps into the air to shoot a 10 foot jump shot against Rockford Guilford. All five Guilford players look on as Gooch shoots his jumper. Antioch opened Rockford Boylan tournament with win over Harlem but lost next three games. Antioch will travel to Stevenson for start of North Suburban Conference season Dec. 2 in Prairie View. Throughout Lake County, hoops teams are putting Thanksgiving tournaments behind them as they concentrate on league seasons. - Photo by Steve Young.

Carmel hopes fast ESCC start

By STEVE PETERSON
Emotions can run the gamut for basketball coaches to start the season, even when a day off is thrown in.

Such was the case for the Carmel Corsairs coaching staff. Scott Rosberg & Co. began the Waukegan West tournament in a stunned state after beating ranked Fremd 51-50. Then the one-point magic continued with a 60-59 win over Warren. And although the tournament ended with a 68-65 loss to Waukegan West, the Corsairs still had plenty of good things other than turkey sandwiches to digest. "We finished 2-1 and I'm very happy with that," Rosberg said. "Going into the tournament, I did not think the winner would be 3-0".

The Corsairs, with the win over Warren, claim the round-robin tournament title hosted by West. The Blue Devils also had their highlights, beating Fremd 59-58 on a last-second shot in the finale.

Both teams will begin conference play on the road this week as Warren is at Libertyville and Carmel at St. Patricks on Dec. 2.

Bierman, who made a name for himself by making all East Suburban Catholic Conference football team as a defensive star this fall, scored 16 points in the opener against the Vikings - had 20 against Warren and 15 in the loss to Waukegan West.

"I sat him down today and told him after practice to not think that you are the leading scorer - please don't think you are. And he's not. I also told him if he does all the right things like he did the first night - if he'll do the fundamentals - he'll put points on the board. The things we want Randy to do is to get big, get rebounds and play good post defense. Any scoring he gives us will be icing on the cake," Rosberg said.

Carmel used a variety of offensive schemes in the two wins - including a pick-and-roll against Warren that was put in that day.

"We put that in today. You have a kid that size and if he runs the pick and roll properly...I think Randy realizes that his biggest success will come when he plays fundamentally the way he should play," Rosberg said.

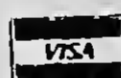

But like the offensive line setting up a great run by a running back, the pick-and-rolls and screens would not work unless the guard talent was there to set them up. And Carmel has Eric Bruksch and Ken Moreano guiding that guard effort. "We have guards who really did a nice job in distributing the ball and are very unselfish in doing it," the second-year coach.

St. Augustine

228-131 St. Augustine
By Landmark Designs
12-04-88

On the one hand the St. Augustine has a traditional Spanish flavor, with tiled hip roofs, stucco exterior, and an entry court. On the other hand, the St. Augustine utilizes a distinctive contemporary floor plan.

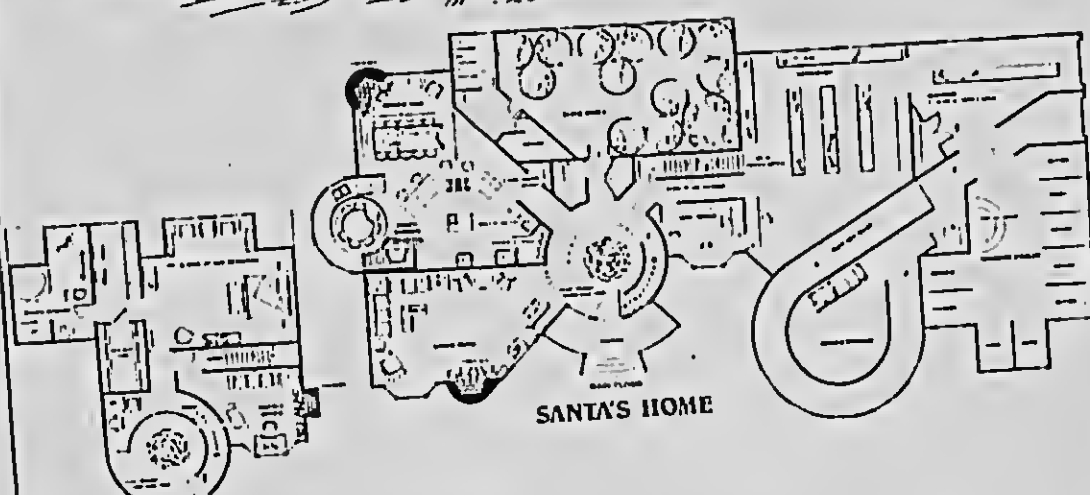

The main floor of the house consists of three large interlocking hexagonal cells. The central cell contains the main entrance, family room, and walk through kitchen. The kitchen serves into the family room across an eating bar. Because the main counter fits into one apex of the hex, it can take advantage of garden windows in both adjacent walls. The right hand unit, with living and dining rooms, joins at the entrance. Windows in each of its five outside walls offer a 270-degree view. Half of this cell-the living room-is vaulted. The dining room has its ceiling soffit down to make a more formal, intimate space.

Guest room, utility room, pool dressing area, den: they all lie in the left hand unit of the St. Augustine, and all in the same space. This multi-purpose area also includes a full bath, and a short hall to one of two outside patios.

Upstairs, the design of the St. Augustine becomes more conservative. A long hall connects three bedrooms and a master suite. The master suite at one end includes a private bath, walk-in closet, and a private deck that forms the cover for the back patio. The two central bedrooms are quite small, but the third, perched over the living/dining hexagon, is large enough (and close enough to the bathroom) to house two children in bunk beds.

For a study plan of the St. Augustine (228-131), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P. O. Box 2832, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Santa's Home Helps Homeless Children

Early this month, just in time for their busy season, Santa and Mrs. Claus moved into this spacious new home. In recent years their old home at the North Pole had grown far too small to handle the increasingly huge volume of mail. The elves needed more space for making and storing toys.

Several rarely used construction materials have been adapted for incorporation into the building's exterior. The fudgerock chimneys, lollipop fringed rooftop and gumdrop exterior walls are particularly unique.

Through the candy cane portico, just inside the front door, a year round Christmas tree in the circular reception atrium extends up through both stories. Passageways leading off of this central hub provide easy access to all other areas of the house. A staircase curves up the right side to the Claus' private living space.

The kitchen, designed with Santa's sweet tooth in mind, features an ice cream freezer, candy pantry, and cookie jar cupboard. Thermal paned windows brighten the snack nook, while the woodstove radiates toasty warmth. The snack and dining table are specially designed to accommodate Santa's belly.

With its soft couches, easy chairs and big screen television, the lounging area provides a comfortable environment for taking a break from the day's work. On long winter nights, roaring fires in the massive stone fireplace invite storytelling while warding off winter's chills.

Clusters of cubicles in the elves quarters simulate their normal forest habitat. Since elves vary in their personal preferences for privacy or company in their sleeping arrangements, several sizes are available. Toilets and lavatories are scaled down to fit their smaller-than-average body builds.

With its numerous long workbenches, the adjacent workroom provides plenty of space for handcrafting hundreds of toys at once.

Easy access to the full basement, provided by the nearby stairway, makes it a natural for the year-round toy storage. The work area is also conveniently close to the mailroom where Santa reads the letters from all the good little girls and boys and decides which gifts he'll ask the elves to make.

Shipping and receiving is right next door. Supplies arrive here, and it is here Santa's bag is packed on Christmas Eve. A ramp spiraling up from the ground floor stable to the rooftop runway enables Santa to build up enough speed to take off with his reindeer and sleigh.

Upstairs in the Claus' personal living area, one large closet is devoted exclusively to red suit storage. Santa recognizes that he has a weight problem, partly from eating all the cookies and milk children leave him on Christmas Eve. A fitness room, complete with a scale, weights and exercise bicycle helps him stay on top of it.

For an activity packet that includes an artist's conception, floor plans, exterior views, and a sheet of cut-out stick-on furnishings, send a check for $6 to Santa's Home, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, Oregon 97402. The 15"x22" sheets are suitable for coloring and can be used as wall decorations.

Three dollars of each order will go to the National Network of Runaway and Youth Services, to help children who have no homes. Delivery before Christmas cannot be guaranteed for orders placed after December 5.

Every week, we have a special spot in our newspaper that's exactly right for that item you want to sell. If you tell us to run an ad for a car you no longer need, we place it in our CARS FOR SALE classification (No.80). Want to buy or sell a horse? Your ad goes in classification No. 42.

Why do we do it this way? Because it's easier for our readers (your customers) to find your ad. No long search, no missing your sailboat ad because it's mixed in with rummage sales.

The next time you want to turn a no-longer needed item into cash, give this paper a try. You'll be in the right place.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Rebellion abounds; it's time to clean the air.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) This is the time when the wise Aries runs get their greatest holiday inspirations. Don't get discouraged by detractors who don't have good sense.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Your love of parties could get you into situations where you don't know which way to turn. Better, then, to turn down some bids. Enjoy yourself!

Gemini (May 21-June 20) You'll have a lot to do this pre-holiday time, so don't fret over small annoyances that crop up. Use your double nature at home and at the office.

Cancer (June 21-July 20) You may hear some cryptic comments from higher-ups. Take statements at face value; don't attempt to read anything into them. Spend time at home.

Leo (July 21-Aug. 22) Although the pre-holiday season finds you with a lot more to do, don't let yourself get boxed into a corner. Allow time to relax with friends.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You don't think you have time to plan a holiday trip? Think again, because you're probably going to be packing a bag shortly. Reserve your energies.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Recheck your gift-giving list. Signs indicate a possibility of miscalculation in several areas. Also, check your receipts; you could be taken to the cleaners.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) This is still a somewhat confusing period for many Scorpions. Before you despair, be assured that things are straightening out. Be spunky.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Family relationships are exceptionally strong. Expect to hear from kin you haven't heard from in years. Old feuds are almost totally forgotten.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) While all around you appear to be losing their heads in a desperate bid for the holiday fun, you find simple but efficient solutions, as usual.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) For once in your life, let others do all the planning and rushing around. You've earned the right to go to parties as a valued guest. Take time to rest.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) The holiday party period nets you several invitations to join in the social swim. Join, and enjoy. You'll meet new friends and refresh old acquaintances.

If you were born this week, you are one who is prone to making haphazard decisions with long-term associates. Concentrate on evaluating work and personal relationships before making permanent appointments with anyone. You'd do well to pour your efforts into things having to do with family, since this area of your life will have the most dramatic swings.

Some like, dislike new garbage plan

Lindenhurst, on the other hand, seems to think that whatever the agency does and says is acceptable. Trustee Jeff Lind is the community representative of the agency, which represents some 26 Lake County communities.

Lincolnshire officials wrote to these and other municipalities asking them to join in asking for minimum standards. Some have. Others, like Lindenhurst, Lincolnshire doesn't like some of the criteria of the Lake County Solid Waste Planning Agency for new methods of waste disposal by the year 2000.

Officials of that community have raised questions about the lack of minimum standards in the criteria for selection of waste sites in proximity to water wells, schools and hospitals. Suggested is a minimum buffer of 1,600 feet.

have taken a "wait and see" attitude. He said 16 criteria will be used to select a site, whether for an incinerator, landfill or combination of the two.

"We have consultants," Lind said in asking the board to take a "go slow" approach in support of Lindenhurst. Although some trustees agree with Lincolnshire's concern, Lind asked no action be taken prior to the agency's Friday, Dec. 9, meeting. He hinted it might prejudice any decision. "We haven't reviewed the letter," Lind said of no meeting by the agency since the Lincolnshire letter was mailed.

Following the meeting he will give a report. If other trustees have their say, some action may be taken. They want to do this so their silence will not be considered as an endorsement of the agency's actions and lack of support for Lincolnshire.

Receipts for trees necessary

Deer hunters and other outdoors lovers who take to the woods this season planning to leave with a freshly cut Christmas tree had better be ready to provide a receipt or other proof of purchase for the tree.

Earl Meyer with the Wis. Dept. of Natural Resources Bureau of Forestry reminds Christmas tree cutters that "every tree growing out there belongs to someone."

And while the U.S. Forestry Service, some county forestry agencies and some private landowners are willing to sell live evergreen trees for Christmas trees, the State of Wisconsin does not sell Christmas trees and prohibits the cutting of live trees on all state-owned lands, including forests, parks and public hunting grounds.

"Anyone cutting a tree on state land, or any land without the consent of the landowner, could face up to a $260 fine and still not get the tree," Meyer cautioned, adding "it's not really in the spirit of Christmas to celebrate with a stolen tree."

DNR forest rangers and conservation wardens who will be out checking hunters are also authorized to issue citations for illegally cutting trees, Meyer said.

Anyone who has paid for cutting a tree on national, county or private forest land, Meyer recommends that they have written receipt for the tree with them while removing it from the woods and transporting it.

For more information contact Earl Meyer (608)267-7508.

BEST FOOT FORWARD

FROM THE OFFICE OF
DR. PAUL ABLER

RAYNAUD'S DISEASE

In Raynaud's disease, named for the French physician who first discovered it, blood vessels become progressively narrower, interfering with circulation, and eventually leading to serious tissue changes.

In the beginning, there is slight swelling, a tingling feeling, and the feet may perspire more than usual. The skin may begin to change color. As the disease progresses, the skin at the tips of the toes may begin to break down.

When you first notice such symptoms, it's important to schedule a podiatric examination as soon as possible. Non-surgical treatment is often effective. However, in serious cases, surgery may be required to restore circulation and relieve pain.

ARTS AND CRAFTS

Victory to hold craft fest

Over 30 talented crafters from throughout northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin will display their work at the Victory Lakes First Annual Arts and Crafts show.

The giant craft show is scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 3, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center, 1055 East Grand Ave., Lindenhurst.

Crafters will exhibit a wide variety of quality craft items including ceramics, tole painting, woodworking, cabinets, frames, afghans, stained glass, jewelry, floral items, dolls, clocks, pottery, ornaments and decorations. In addition to the craft sale, the center plans to give prizes away and have a bake sale. Luncheon will be available for a small fee.

Displaying handiwork

Connie Muckelburg shows off one of her doll collection she displayed at Arts and Crafts show at Lake County Fairgrounds in Grayslake. Muckelburg's dolls all have one thing in common, as they can play various songs. Arts and crafts show was sponsored by Lake County Promotions.-Photo by Steve Peterson.

CLC Board considers financial value system

William Ballock

In response to the referendum defeat earlier this month, the College of Lake County Board of Trustees attempted to cope with a 20-year-old tax rate and a three-quarter of a million dollar budget deficit at its monthly meeting.

Starting off with a canvass of the Nov. 8 results, the board acknowledged the 59 percent to 41 percent defeat at the polls and thanked all those who had worked in support of the issue. College officials have not yet made a decision on whether to ask for a tax increase again next spring, but the board took some preliminary steps to deal with an uncertain financial future.

A key move by the board was to consider a set of financial principles. Presented by CLC President Daniel LaVista, the principles represent a "financial value system" that will guide the college's future directions, assist in planning and provide a framework for the allocation of resources.

The principles included safeguarding the college's assets, exercising prudent financial management, maximizing the delivery of services, developing the college's human resources, maintaining financial flexibility and innovation, and developing a financial strategic plan.

A $900 Arts Midwest grant to subsidize a Milwaukee Brass Quintet performance next spring was accepted by the board, and authorization to pursue seven other grants was given. The grants, offered by a number of federal and state sources as well as private foundations, are a potential source of funding.

Hammond says good-bye Pavelski playing

by CAROLYN HAMMOND (312)395-6081

It's been 27 months since I wrote the first words of this column and I talked about new beginnings. Now it's hard to know what to say as I write the last words, except there comes a time for endings, also.

It's been a good experience getting to know so many of you; thank you for your support and for your news articles. Now, Antioch is: Santa Claus, 100 Toyland Road, Antioch, IL 60002.

Reminder—this is the last weekend to see PM&L's "The Fantastiks". A little bird told us the show's a whole lot of fun with really different, yet nice, music; with a whole lot of tenderness, yet a lot of adventure; a very complicated plot, yet a very simple story. Do you get the picture? Come and see

Also at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 6, the Antioch Chapter of Women's Aglow Int'l. will hold a special musical celebration as the Royal Way comes to minister in song at the Antioch State Bank Community Room, 440 Lake St. The group will also welcome men to join them at this special event. The public is invited. Cost is $1.50; refreshments will be served.

Congratulations to W.C. Petty School's "students of the month" for spelling: Julie Hasler, David Gimpel, Matt Colburn, Debbie Perry, Rebecca Krocker, Sean Robertson, Shanna Brown, Jennifer Gravelle, Sandra Ruesko, Christian Kang, Lisa Bedini, Kelly Burrell, Meagan Fleming, Heather Cramond, Rhett Deckert, Mike Harris, and Merrill Schaps.

Top winners in the Antioch Upper Grade School eighth grade pizza drive were: Tracy Eatmon, first; Chester Kupczyk, second; Mary Young, third; Denise Matelski, fourth; and Don Stout, fifth. Nice work, kids—congratulations!

Well, this is it. Happy Holidays! May God bless you and yours. Bye, now...

Michelle Pavelski, a 1988 graduate of Antioch High School, recently earned a varsity letter for playing on the 1988 Aurora University volleyball team.

A 5-10 freshman, Pavelski played as a hitter for third year coach Brenda Hillman.

Pavelski, a physical education major, is the daughter of Dolores Vanoss of Lake Villa.

Time Machine

20 YEARS AGO; Dec. 5, 1968

According to the Antioch Reporter, "the Antioch Village Board approved increasing the salary of Antioch's mayor from $600 per year to $1,200. The present mayor, Ray Toft will not receive the salary raise during this term in office but he has announced he will run for reelection and to date, no other candidates have announced for the office."

Henry Pickard and the rest of the newly-formed Antioch Industrial Council sent an industrial fact sheet to the Ill. Dept. of Business and Economic Development to be used as literature to entice more industry to the Antioch area.

Elected directors of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce were William Mandrela of Antioch Drugs, Grant Sprong of Quaker, LaVerne Woods, First National Bank of Antioch and John Romer, Romer Ins.

Richard Witt was appointed to the Antioch Zoning Board. Bud Holway was one of the Antioch High School students in the audio-visual department that started to use the department's new video tape recorder to rerun newsworthy events in class.

Gary Richter, Bill Serstone and Joe Hunley were starring in PM&L's version of "Tom Sawyer."

15 YEARS AGO: DEC. 6, 1973

Antioch trustees were asked to consider placing a fire and rescue squad sub-station in Oakwood Knolls.

Terri Simon, daughter of Sharon and Lew Simon, won the 10-speed bike for being awarded first place in the Antioch Bike-A-Thon for the American Cancer Society.

While his wife Betty was having major surgery, hubby Ken Smouse was home nursing a strep throat.

Everyone was told to turn their thermostats down to 68 degrees in the interest of energy conservation. Antioch Grade School Dist. voters turned down a proposed 25-cent education fund tax rate increase.

Four Squires was showing cuffed bell-bottomed jeans. President Jay Dziki, representing the Antioch Chamber of Commerce, donated scrapbooks kept of Chamber activities to the Antioch Library.

10 YEARS AGO; DEC. 7, 1978

Sue Koppa resigned her post as head of the Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept.

The Antioch Grade School Dist. was running a contest to choose a name for the new grade school.

Annette Montalvo was one of crowd of children that got to talk to Santa after he came to town.

Matt Firestone, ACIS junior, was getting ready to spend his next school year in South America as an Antioch Rotary Exchange Student.

Notes & News

promise to contact my successor because columnists aren't mind readers; they need input from you.

Santa might say that he's had some successes, too. No sooner did he move into his Antioch castle with Mrs. Claus for the Christmas season than he brought some of that white stuff to make him feel at home.

You know, SNOW, that "surprise" that greeted us on Monday morning as we awoke to face another work and school week. At least with rain you usually hear it coming!

For your children who want to send Santa a wish list, Santa's address in An-whether two fathers' reverse psychology will cause their children to fall in love. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Friday, Dec. 2, and Saturday, Dec. 3; and 2:15 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 4.

Ticket prices are $5, adults, and $4 for senior citizens and children. Please call the ticket line (312)395-3055 for reservations.

Do you need something to get you in the Christmas mood? The Antioch Upper Grade School will present a free Christmas Choral Concert at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 6, under the direction of new choral director Cathy Miller.
